To Whom It May Concern:

As an attendee at many conferences where Andreanna Rainville has lectured and taught, I have learned a tremendous amount of knowledge from her. She is able to take complex topics and break them down into understandable concepts.

Her background in medicine has aligned her with some of the top experts in the field and she herself is a respected authority. She has shared her knowledge at conferences as well as in direct 1:1 teaching and tutoring engagements with practitioners around the country.

She is further able to adjust the technical nature of the informational content to her audience. This becomes critical as she teaches sessions for both medical professionals and lay people.

She incorporates both lecture and practical application of the material such that attendees can quickly understand and adopt the content. She is strong in her ability to prepare presentations and lecture materials to supplement her verbal teaching.

I have enjoyed learning from Ms. Rainville and look forward to further opportunities in the future.

Sincerely,
Scott Forsgren
